The People. The lawful method of reconstruction is met by proclamations intended to restore plans repeatedly repudiated by the country; gold rises to 144. Sher-idan and Sickles are removed, and the act is anwered by the indignation of the people. But no panic followers—no doubt of the result is felt. Our conds are not depreciated, and in Europe the demand for them is as steady as the demand for breadstuffs. The farmer pauses in the furrow to hear of new Presidential usurpations, and then lays his hand again to the plow. The mills and factories do not pause; everywhere is the hum of industry; new pause; everywhere is the hum of industry; new against it, and all the Republicans voted for it, and it was carried in the Senate by thirty-three to eleven, with the tide; the crops are garnered, and the fields and in the House by one hundred and thirty-eight time, are being made through published correspontilled anew. The blow is beavy, but it falls lightly .-Yet this general peace and serenity of the people exist while the country is threatened with a new revolution.
